

Connecting with your crystals is important to realize the magnificent energies they can bring you. Here are a few ways you can connect with them

Place them in a pouch

Pouches are a great way to keep your crystals with you anywhere you go.

Create a grid

A crystal grid creates a powerful union of energies between your crystals. You don't need anything special outside of your chosen crystals, but sometimes it helps to have a geometric base as a placement guide.

Place them in a "wish" bowl

Place your crystals in a bowl with a written "wish" below it. A great tool for manifesting a strong desire to achieve a desired outcome.

Place them around a candle

Putting your crystals in a circle around a white or other special candle is another powerful manifestation tool.

Put them in your pillowcase

Your crystals can positively affect your sleep and will deepen your connection with them.

Clear your mind

Hold your crystals several times a day and clear your mind while holding them.
